All these memories bring back thoughts
Of friends
And the fun of high school days.
Participation in varied activities
Filled the year of

With enthusiasm and Spirit
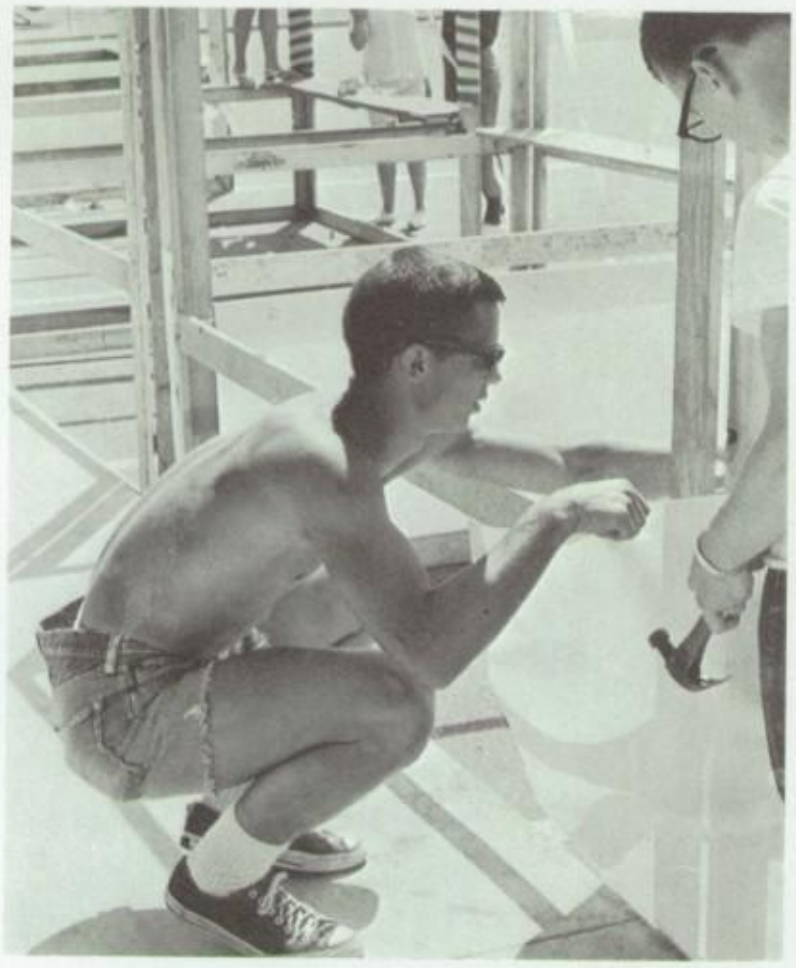
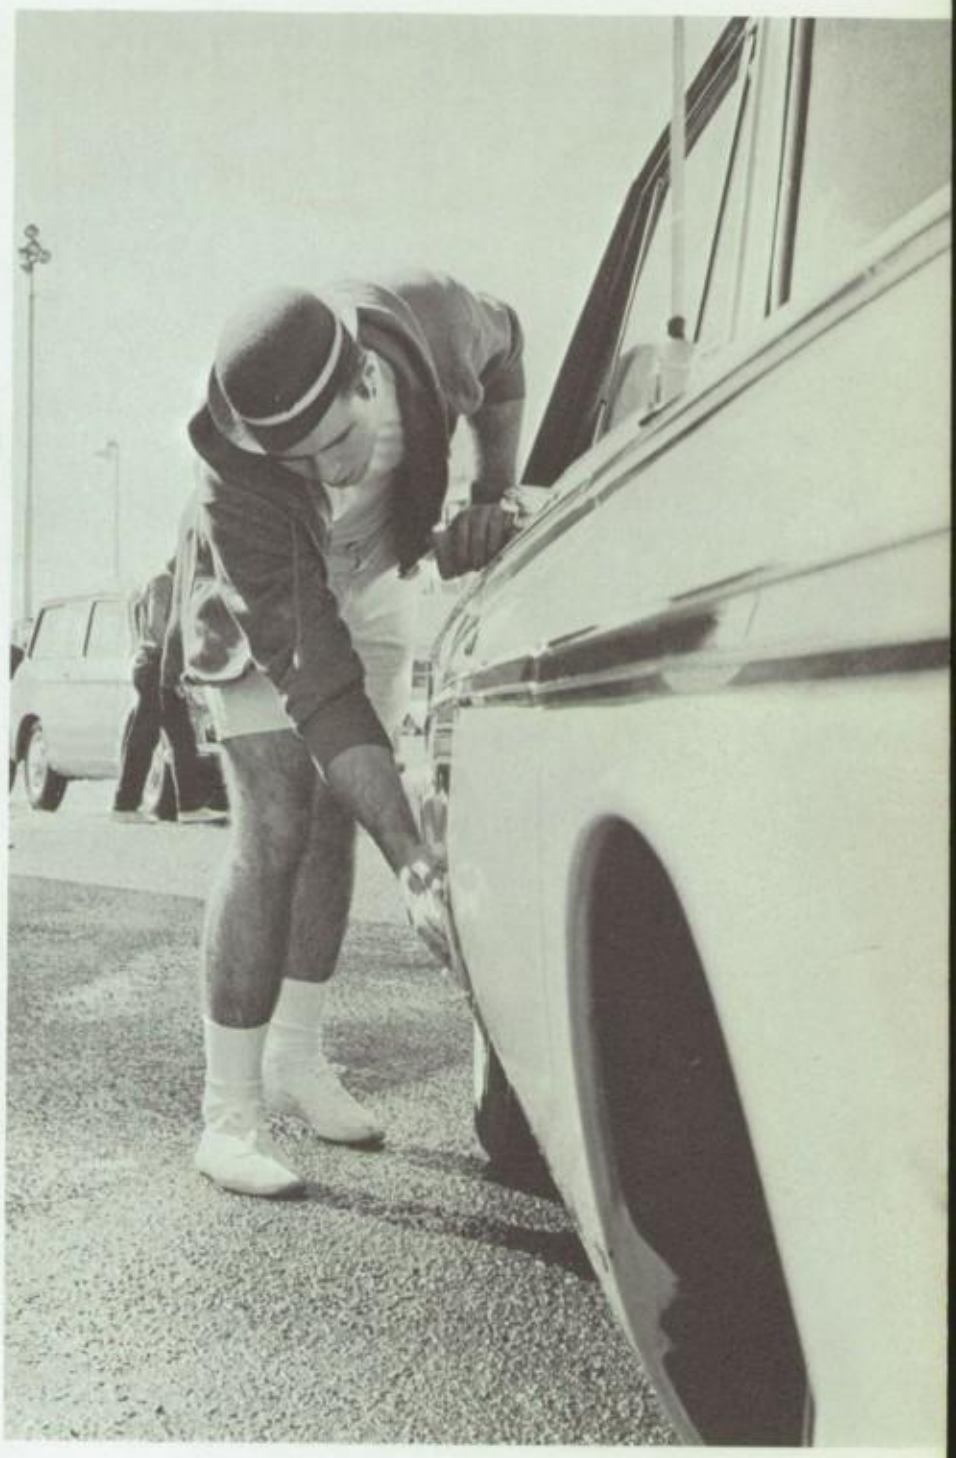
This feeling is reflected in . . . . . .

Friendship

A friend is someone you eat lunch with, someone you borrow money and homework from, and someone to talk to on the telephone.
A friend is someone with whom to discuss school and personal problems, to be with in your spare time, and to share disappointments and triumphs.
Friendship is the most common thing found on campus, and throughout the year the friendship one student has for another keeps the day far from dull.

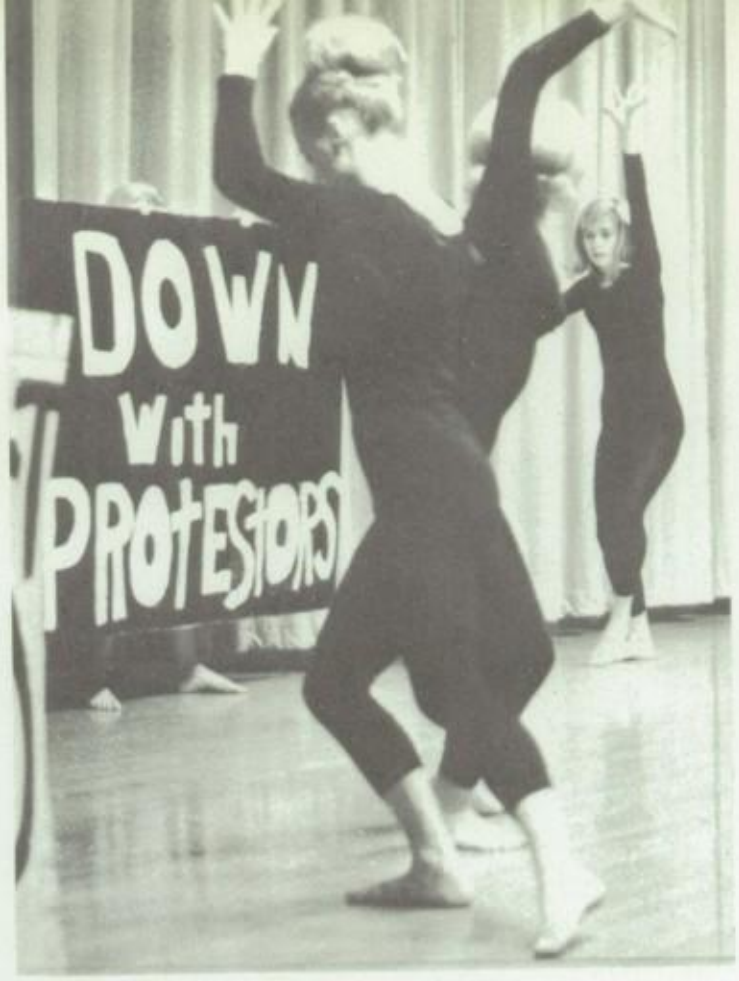




Participation

A student's life is one of participation, often involuntary, but more frequently a willing participation. Whether it be a part in a school play or voicing an idea in a class discussion, he is taking part in the whole that makes up life at Alhambra. As a member of a club or school team, when he votes for class officers or reads the school newspaper, he is exercising his rights as a member of the student body.

Creating



The art of creating is found many places on campus. It is not limited to the fine and practical arts departments, but is found in many other phases of school life . . . sports involves the creation of a new winning play, and Poms and Cheers design rouines in order to invoke school spirit. The planning of a mathematical proof or the carrying out of a scientific experiment are equally creative.

Excitement

Besides the suspense of Homecoming and the Honors Assembly, and the enthusiastic cheering and excitement seen at games, a different kind of excitement is found in the classroom. The sudden awareness of the idea of a poem or the understanding of a mathematical formula can be just as thrilling as a ninth-inning homerun or a last minute touchdown.

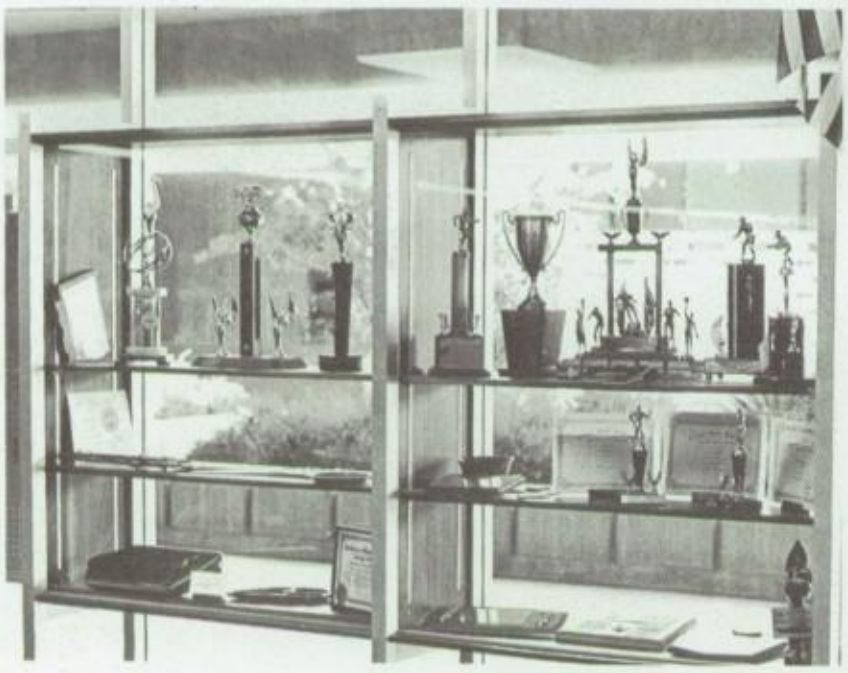
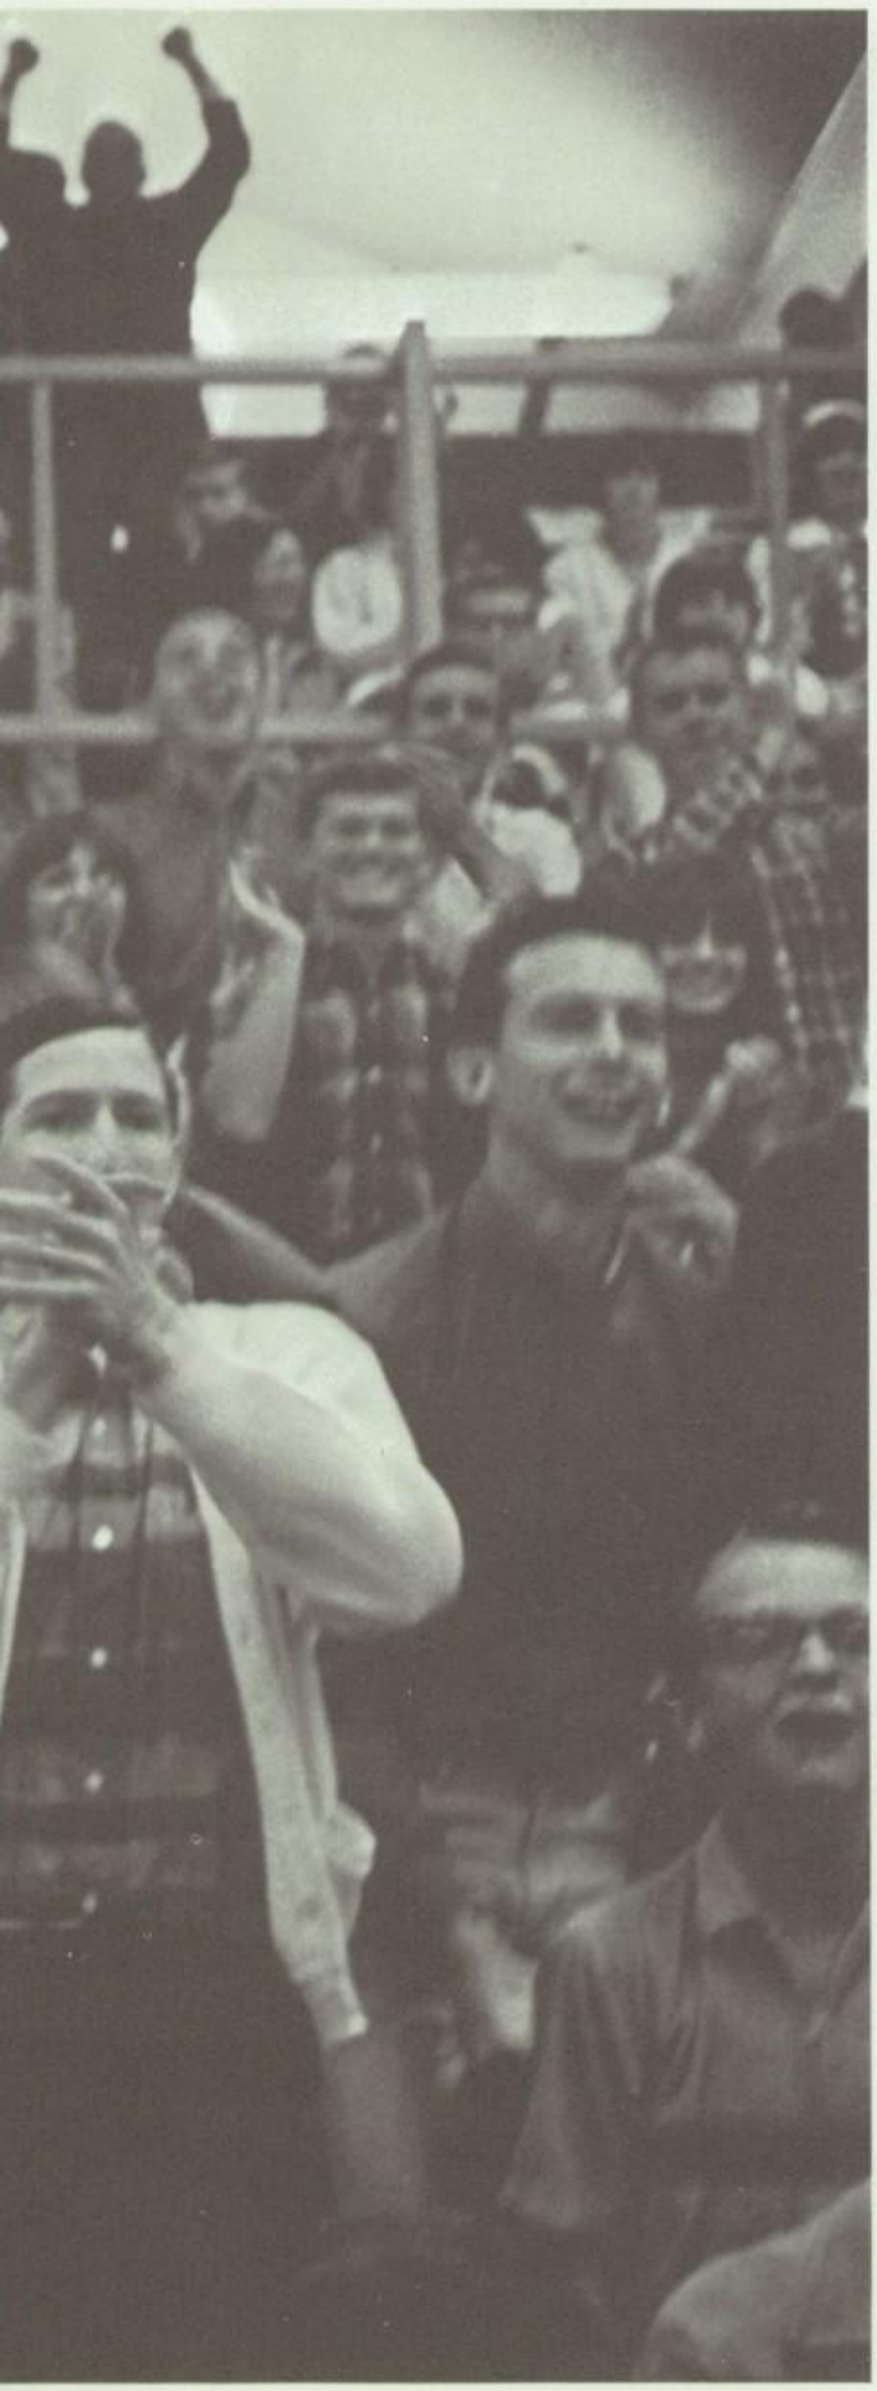
Pride



Whether it's being proud of himself for a job well-done or for the success of a fellow classmate, every student at one time or another has a special feeling of pride. Pride is expressed at well-played games, during Homecoming and Rodeo, in the morning flag salute or after school elections when everyone senses the pride he feels for his school, his country, his friends and himself.



School Spirit

School Spirit! What is it?

It's the thrill of winning a State Championship,

The fun of hanging Max Maryvale, it's Buying a painting for the school collection.

School spirit is campaign speeches,

Talking in the quad,

Respect for a teacher, or

Writing an editorial.

School spirit is being a student at Alhambra.

It's found everywhere on campus,

It's felt everyday --

School spirit is YOU!

To this Spirit of the Lions

We dedicate . . . . . .

THE JOY OF BELONGING TO CLUBS

Thespians

One hundred hours spent on drama activities is a long time, but students wishing to belong to this honor club gladly put out a lot of dramatic and working effort. Besides sponsoring all school plays, Thespians entertained the student body with two editions of Fanfare, a one act play, "Goodnight Caroline," and the outstanding fine arts assembly. For the first time, the faculty enjoyed receptions and previews of the school plays, compliments of Mr. Traw's Thespians. Alhambra's drama department is recognized as one of the best in Phoenix, and the Thespians are responsible for building interest in dramatic productions.

Costumes, rented from New York, added authenticity and glamour to the Thespian's presentation of the "Heiress."

Faculty members were glad of the opportunity to visit with Thespians. Here, Duane Vanderschoor talks with Mrs. Snodgrass.

Allen Jones receives his membership card at the Honor Society reception.

Fifty new members, all Seniors, were inducted into the National Honor Society at a special reception given by the old members, the administration and the club advisors.

Honor is something to which respect is given. Certainly students belonging to the Alhambra Chapter of the National Honor Society should be given respect and special recognition. Members of this club are chosen for their outstanding ability in the areas of service, leadership, personal character, and scholarship. Students belonging to this club are also rewarded with a Principals' Pass which entitles them to certain privileges on campus.

Like the mountain Parnassus in Greece, Alhambra's own Parnassus attains great heights. Students in this club must have achieved scholastic ability by being on the honor roll at least one semester. Parnassus members have already taken part in many cultural activities this year. They have visited the Art Museum, and have gone to the Opera and the Henry Mancini Concert.

Key Club, a new service organization, was formed to aid the school and surrounding community. Civic-minded Sophomore, Junior, and Senior boys active in school affairs who have above average grades are eligible to join. Sponsored by the Camelback Kiwanis Club, the Key club has been busy this year with the Clean-up campaign, helping the bookstore purchase and sell books, and ushering at school football games, plays and concerts. Key club community projects included helping with the Kiwanis Club Hop-a-Bus and the Arizona Boy's Ranch Help-a-Boy projects.

To raise money for the Sweetheart Ball, Key clubbers spend a day washing cars. Dave Watson and Boyd Vaughn put the finishing touches on a new Dodge.

Math Club

What would we do without mathematics? The Mu Alpha Theta Mathematics Club of Alhambra knows the answer, and does their best to pass on the value of math. Being very much interested in computers, this club planned a double field trip in October. They spent much of their time touring The University of Arizona Computer Center, where they had a chance to figure some problems. The second trip was held at the Kitt Peak Observatory just outside Tucson. There the club was able to see the Solar Telescope, one of the biggest in the world.

Fellowship Club

Fellowship Club has spent much time this year at conventions and conferences. Fifteen delegates from Alhambra attended the National Conference of Christians and Jews at A.S.U. Group discussions were held, speakers answered questions raised by the delegates, and Governor Goddard spoke to the assembly. To conclude a wonderful day, the students took part in a hootenanny. Fellowship Club attended a convention at West High School where the theme was, "What Color is a Man's Heart?" During March the Fellowship Club held its own assembly.

Phil Lucas sings the theme song of Brotherhood Week, "This Land is Your Land", at the Fellowship assembly.

Future Business Leaders of America

Future Business Leaders of America is a club designed especially for students who plan to continue in the field of business. One of the club's first activities was planned at Christmas when they mailed packages to the faculty. In February they took a field trip through the municipal buildings in downtown Phoenix. The State Convention at Arizona State University in March highlighted the club's year. Members took part in several contests including spelling, typing, and shorthand.

Sitting: Janet Beckley, Janice Hiser, Candy Collins, Vicki Copen. Standing: Glenda Melton, Cheryl Polchow, Judy Smith, Karen Zarn, Kathy Whitley, Linda Arnell, Art Webber.

Club Advisor, Mrs. Koons goes over records with Kathy Whitley and Treasurer, Art Webber.

Modern Music Masters

Music is sometimes called the universal language, for in music there are no language barriers. Students in Music Club are well aware of this fact, for the main reason they belong to the club is their appreciation of music. At their meetings, members listen to music, sing, and discuss musical programs. They also encourage musical participation and hold parties, hootenannies, and bake sales.

Sitting: Barbara Reeder, Dale Deratany, Arlys Erickson. Standing: Liana Friday, Joan Comstock, Sue Atkin, Aileen Gillespie, Rhonda Wheeler, Sandee Burk, Mary Broderick, Sue Phillips, Charles White. On steps: Nancy Gooden, Gail Gordon, Marci Watson, Sandy Westerfield, Barb Meeker.

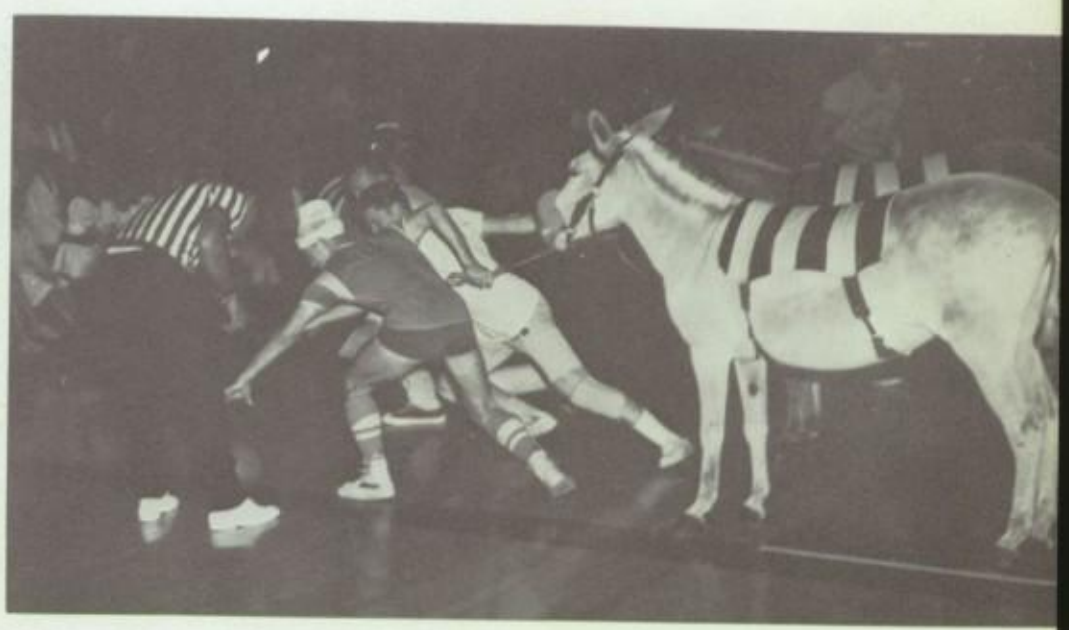
Row 3: Chuck Turner, Randy Propeck, Charles Johnson, Alan Harper, Larry Willingham, Jim McMorris, George Hefflin, Greg Christ.

Lettermen

Organized primarily to boost school spirit, the Lettermen go about this in a big way — particularly at games where their informal pep rallies often increase noise 100%. This year the club sponsored an after game victory dance and a booth at the Carnival in addition to making posters to publicize games.



Lettermen sponsored the exciting Donkey Basketball game.

Spanish Club

Peggy Simpson holds the "dead" Pinata after the clubs Christmas party.

Spanish Club has been very active this year planning various money-making projects. A bake sale with many delicious Spanish treats was held in the early part of the year. At Christmas time the Pinata Party proved to be lots of fun. A candy sales was also held to send 38 students to Mexico in May. With the help of colorful films and interesting speakers, students in Spanish Club are able to get a better understanding of the country just south of our border.

Entertainment by Alhambra's Windjammers added to the success of the Spanish Club annual party.

Active Spanish club members meet regularly and often conclude after-school meetings with refreshments.

French Club

French club members learn about France and its physical features through the use of films and film strips. Guest speakers have brought the customs and ways of French citizens to interested club members. A successful trip to the Phoenix Art Museum gave students an insight on French art and the French impressionists.

Club president, Alicia Dimmick, calls out lucky Bingo numbers at the Mardi Gras party.

Sitting: Lee Garrett, Jacque Sniffen, Margie Meyer, Linda Sanders. Standing: David Brown, Kathy Black, Randy Schecter, Rose Ann Bee.

German Club

German club members take a deep interest in Germany, its people and its customs. This year Miss Johnson, Fortress Staff advisor, showed slides of Germany which she took while living there. Other guest speakers, plus an international dinner at the end of the year, highlighted the activities of the German Club.

Going over the agenda for the day's metting are Jacque Sniffen, and president, Kathy Black.

Miss Johnson, who lived in Germany a year, was a guest of the German Club.

Latin Club

The Roman Cone sale advertised, "Find out what the Romans ate for dessert."

Pat Franz demonstrates how to treat a slave after she bought John Brayer.

Latin Club started off a successful year with the Slave Sale, and the traditional wearing of the Roman costumes. During basketball season they sold special "Beat Maryvale" cookies. Earlier, Latin club president Bill Price, had presented the Varsity Basketball team with a large cookie wishing them luck against the North High team. Besides promoting school spirit, the Latin club furthers the study of the language, and the historical country from which it originated. Any Junior Classical Leaguer will tell you that Latin is far from being a dead language, and that it is the basis for much of our English language.

Latin Club slaves were auctioned off in the quad and were sold wearing their working clothes.

Chess

Twice weekly the members of the Alhambra Chess Club meet to test their skills in the challenging game of chess. After school, room 343 is filled with quiet thoughts, some of which are shrewd, and devised in such a way as to outwit the opposition. The Chess Club has taken part in many tournaments this year and has done an outstanding job of representing Alhambra. They are ranked as the 3rd team in the state.

Whether to move his Pawn or Bishop is a question requiring a great deal of concentration for this chess player.

Bowling Club

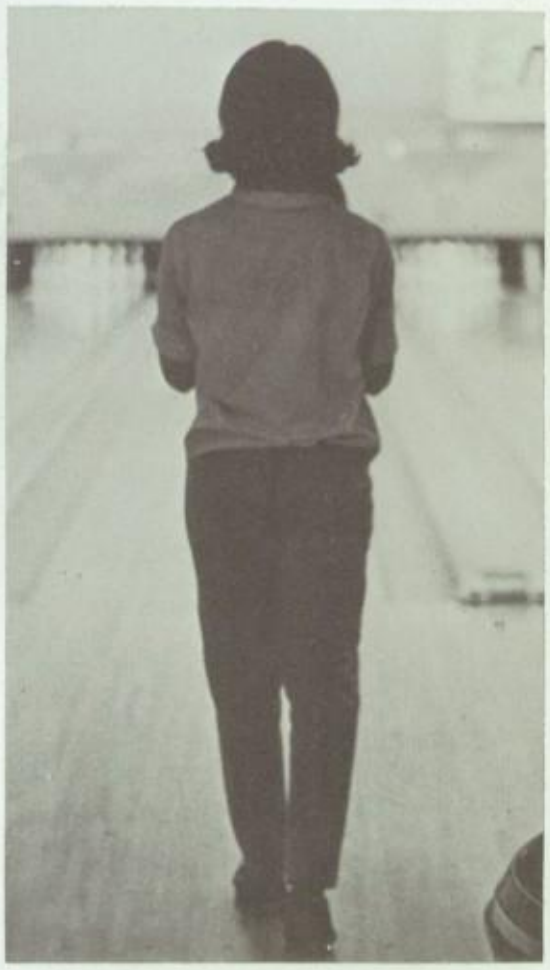
The Bowling Club meets every Tuesday until 5 o'clock at Thunderbird Lanes. No one can accuse this club of being inactive!

Strike! Spare! Gutterball! Sounds of triumph and exasperation are heard around Thunderbird Bowling Lanes as the Alhambra Bowling Club holds its weekly Tuesday night meeting. Students in the Bowling Club participate in intraschool league tournaments. Playing leagues are the National League and the American League. Exercise, enjoyment and competition are obvious rewards for these enthusiastic kegglers.

Members often find scoring difficult especially when strikes and spares stack up.

Selecting the right ball is very important to the success of the game, as bowler Judy Allen knows.

A real bowling enthusiast, club sponsor, Mr. Boglio, always bowls at Tuesday meetings.



At the beginning of the year club members are given instruction to improve their games before breaking into club teams.

Science Club

Have you noticed the Scimitar fence, the greenhouse, and the cactus garden? Alhambra's Science Club Members helped to construct these additions to our campus. In the fall the Club took a trip to the mines in Globe and Superior. They sponsored candy sales before Thanksgiving and Easter. Career day had many guides, hosts, and hostesses as a courtesy of the Science Club. Highlight of the year for club members was the Science Fair, which challenged many members' ingenuity. This club awards $75 scholarships to the two outstanding members.

Students wishing to receive work experience along with their high school education have an opportunity to join Diistribution Education Clubs of America. DECA club participants go to school in the morning then go on the job for the remainder of the day. Three school credits are received for participating in DECA, plus a salary for the working hours.

Alhambra's DECA Club was named outstanding chapter in Arizona at the state conference in March. They have the additional distinction of being the first chapter in the history of Arizona's D.E. program to meet this criteria and receive this award. Competing with 35 chapters in the state, Alhambra DECA placed in eight contests. Candy Casler was awarded a four year scholarship to the university of her choice. Carl Buttler was awarded third place trophy for the Arizona Student of the Year. Carol Gomez was awarded first place trophy in the area of Distribution Manual Contest.

Bonnie Gardner was elected by DECA officers as our DECA Sweetheart and represented Alhambra in the state contest in Tucson.

Arizona Statesmen

Tomorrow's leaders? This is often the goal of Arizona Statesmen. Membership is open to anyone with an interest in political science or current events. Informative speakers from the John Birch Society, and the Democratic and Republican parties may influence "tomorrow's leaders."

Girls' Letter Club

Girls' Letter Club is an active service club for both school and community. G. L. C. offers a college scholarship for a deserving senior girl. Over the Christmas holiday, they offer their services at the Arizona State Mental Hospital. Other Christmas activities include the adoption of a needy family and the sale of candy canes. Profits from the sale are used for a traditional end of the year trip to Oak Creek.

Over 7,000 candy canes were sold this year, making the annual sale another success for the Girls' Letter Club.

Forensic Team

The Alhambra High School Forensics League won third place in the state tournament. More than fifty hours of research and study, per person, has made a prize-winning team. Along with training sessions, debaters have special practices with other high school teams. Ten to twelve tournaments a year are held with high schools all over the state. Alhambra's debate team sponsored an annual tournament hosting approximately two hundred high school debaters. The team also attended a tournament at ASU with teams from Texas, New Mexico, California and Nevada. Alhambra's team is a member of the Forensic League of Arizona and the National Forensic League.

The most successful team, consisting of Alicia Dimmick and Jery McHatton have won many honors for Alhambra. These two debaters won first place at the Westwood High School tournament and third place at the Forensic League of Arizona Winter Tournament. The debators are ably coached by Dave Hochstettler.

Ski Club

Afraid to ski? Alhambra's Ski Club Members aren't. Half of the club members are experienced on the slopes and the others are learning. The Snow Bowl was visited by our Ski Club three times this year. Members met the bus at 6:00 a.m., often drowsy, but thinking of the fun ahead.

Radio Club

Know the Morse Code? Radio Club members do! These boys explore the fields of electronics, amateur radio and hi fi, often developing their interests in mechanical or electronic engineering.

Front row: Larry Rensing, Keith Fox, Preston Green. Row 2: Lee Propeck, Larry Gale, Don Hawley, David Brown. Row 3: Randy Gable, Jesse Magaleno, George Gibbons, Mr. Gibbons, Sponsor, James Rickard, Darrell Pope.

Mrs. Michaels supervises the preparation of Valentine goodies for the Orangewood Rest Home.

Future Homemakers of America

To improve personal, family, and community living is the main objective of the Future Homemakers of America. This club has planned many worthwhile activities this year, including a project at Christmas when the girls made doll dresses for the Salvation Army. Valentine favors made by the club brightened the day for many in the Orangewood Rest Home. Several members from this club attended the Future Homemakers Convention in March. In the latter part of the year a panel discussion on Morals and Manners was held.

Y-Teens

Ever hear of charity? Y-Teen members have. Before Christmas they toiled for hours packing Red Cross boxes to send to Viet Nam. The girls also sponsored several bake sales during the year and sold felt Lion pins. This club isn't all work and no play, though. Among speakers at Y-Teen meetings was an airline hostess, who talked to girls about opportunities open to them with the airlines.

Creative Writing

Students in the Creative Writing Club use their abilities to convey their ideas to others. By exchanging ideas and materials, members improve their ability to write short stories, essays and poems. At meetings the students also discuss the methods and abilities of prominent authors.

G.A.A.

On Thursday afternoons you can find over 500 interested girls participating in G.A.A. activities. These girls, under the leadership of Miss McDonald, work toward G.A.A. emblems, silver and gold pins, and letters. Besides Thursday afternoon meetings, G.A.A. members participate in inter-class tournaments and sports-days. During the Christmas holidays G.A.A. members collected food, clothing, and toys for needy families, and had a party. In May, the annual Awards Banquet was held. By joining G.A.A. girls can make new friends while building skills in various sports activities.

Nock, draw, anchor, aim, release — GOAL! Despite arm burns, the archery program is extremely popular with Alhambra girls.

Flying Lions

Contact! The all new Flying Lions club gives its members the chance to increase their knowledge of model airplanes. Time is spent experimenting with different phases of model flying, such as making the plane land with a running motor. To supplement the members' general interest in aviation, discussions are held on the design of airplanes, engines, fuel and construction. Problems in plane mechanics give Flying Lions a background in engineering.

Several members entered the Buckeye model airplane contest, in which a few of the events included the use of gliders, radio control and U-control.

Future Teachers of America

Teachers are in demand more and more everyday. Students belonging to the Future Teachers of America are ones who are interested in the teaching profession and what it offers. Earlier in the school year the club did research and held several panel discussions concerning various types of curriculum. Later, F.T.A. visited the many places they had discussed. They took a trip to the Montesorri school in Phoenix to observe a new method of education that started in Italy. Visiting other schools in the valley is also a part of their activities.

Woodshop, metalwork, electronics, drafting, and autoshop — all are enjoyed by the boys belonging to the Industrial Arts Club. Members of this club make many different items which are not only used at school but for outside purposes as well. At Christmas this club contributed to the Toys for Tots drive, which made many children happy. Projects for teachers were always underway, and work for the Alhambra Thespians was also done.

Mrs. Gilbert explains the techniques of spotting prints to beginning photo student, Mike Kenny.

Fascinated by Photography? If you attended Photography Club Meetings, a lot could be learned from these young photographers, who start out learning to develop and enlarge prints. As they become more experienced, they become aware of composition and perspective and their photos improve accordingly. Many members entered their projects in the Kodak Scholastic Show. They also assisted other clubs, civic functions, and the Scimitar, often taking photographs for them. The club membership is opened to anyone having a working knowledge of photographic processing and procedures.

Good luck in your future. Tim Hull

Audio Visual Club

Hear the music in the quad? If it weren't for the A. V. Club you wouldn't. Alhambra's Audio-Visual Club provides equipment for class and club projects as well as P. T. A. meetings and Careers Night. A. V. members take films to other clubs after school and run the projectors. All students with Audio-Visual as a class are qualified A. V. Club members.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and scroll is an International Honorary Society reserved for those outstanding publications staff members who meet the basic requirements established by the society and its local chapter. Juniors and seniors in the upper third of their class, and an interest in journalism are eligible to be chosen members of Quill and Scroll. Another qualifying factor is to be on the staff of the Fortress or the Scimitar.

Mr. Melton, advisor to Quill and Scroll, conducts a meeting while Taffy Sickelstell looks on from behind the desk.

John Wainwright was initiated into Quill and Scroll for his outstanding work as a Fortress photographer.

Fortress copy writers, Barbara Baker and Debbie Phillips proofread their work.

Humanities

According to advisor, Miss Phillips, the old proverb, "The best things in life are free", sums up the ideas and beliefs of the Humanities Club. Intellectual jam sessions are held at informal meetings on a very irregular schedule. These humanitarians encourage visits to museums, plays, art galleries, concerts, and other cultural events.

Four hundred twenty four students representing publications in ninty-nine high schools in Arizona, California, Nevada and New Mexico gathered at the A.S.C. campus at Flagstaff for the 7th annual Publications Workshop. Under the direction of newspaper and yearbook faculty advisers, the workshoppers were trained in photography, layout and copy writing in daily classes and seminars. Although the classes were intense and the latest yearbook and newspaper methods and trends were introduced, workshoppers were treated to an active social life — a trip to the Grand Canyon, movies, dances, parties and a talent show were a few of the highlights. Nine Alhambra students, staff members of the Fortress and Scimitar, enjoyed twelve days of people, places and experiences never to be forgotten.

Japanese Wrestling Meet

Representing their country as the outstanding High School Wrestlers, the Japanese All-Stars toured the southwestern United States in January, 1966. The Nippon All-Star wrestled boys from the Phoenix Union High District who were selected by the district coaches. To promote international friendship each contestant exchanged a gift with his opponent. Alhambra placed three grapplers on the squad, Jim Hess, Mike Cachero, and Mike Johnson.

J.V. Wrestling

Under the direction of Coach Marv Nevins the J.V. grapplers wrestled their way to the division championship. With a team record of 9 wins, one loss, these boys give great promise for the future. Freshman David Valdez had an 8-2 record and 4 Sophomores had equally outstanding records. As a farm team for the varsity, several part-time varsity wrestlers gave the J.V. a boost. Several of these boys, Wayne Bee, David Taylor, Larry Willingham, Doug Wick, also wrestled on the varsity squad. Outstanding Freshmen were John Malloy, Daryl Boothe, and Bill Ardendell. With such a fine record Alhambra's matmen will be winning many more championships in the future.

At press time the varsity cindermen had compiled a record of good showing: In a dual meet with Carl Hayden, they piled up 109½ points to Carl Hayden's 17½. Placing second in a tri-meet with Phoenix Union and Yuma, they earned 59 points to Phoenix Union's 66 and Yuma 23. Coach Morrison's thinclads had little trouble in the meet with Camelback, racink up 72½ points to Camelback's 54½. One of the best showings in the early part of the season was at the Phoenix Union High Schools Relays where the Lions placed 2nd with 58 points right behind the first place winner Phoenix Union. Bob Trout, Fred Camp and Art Hazelton set a new discus relay record at this time with a total of 440'11". In a four-way meet with Westwood, Washington and Maryvale, Alhambra placed second with 42 points to the 11 of defeated Maryvale.

Distance man, Dave Watson ran the 880 in 1.56:9 while Roger Cook, George Venetis, Joe Malloy and Howie Williams broke the school 880 relay record with a 1.31:1 finish. George Venetis broke the school Long Jump record with his healthy 21'9½". Robert Trout set a new discus record with a throw of 170'6". Joe Lugo put the shot 56'2½", breaking yet another standing record. The existing high hurdles record was also broken by Ron Tackett and Ken Schiefelbein who both finished in 15.2. Going into the Division III Meet as darkhorses, the Lions gave an outstanding performance taking two 1st, three 2nds, four 3rds and three 4ths, piling up 92 points followed by South's 87 and P.U. 68. The end of the track season concluded Alhambra's great sporting year with its second Division Championship!

The Boy's Varsity Tennis team, at press time, had a win-loss record of 6-4. Of the four losses, two were by margins of 4-3. Only Camelback ran rough shod over our boys defeating them 6-1. Bob Morris worked up the ladder from number 3 to number 1 position and played fine tennis for the Lions. Co-captain Don Kirkman also contributed greatly to the successful season. Vieing for number 1 on the Varsity next year will be Tom Talamantes and Randy Johns who hounds Tom's tracks for ladder matches and always gives him a rough time. Rick Wingo should also be a contender for this spot.

Captain Kent Sowers and Jerry Wood of the Freshman Team battled back and forth all season for the number 1 and 2 positions on the team, and as number 1 doubles, won five out of eight matches. Terry Corcoran nailed down number 3 singles spot. Gary Payton gamely worked his way up to number 4 singles player and won every singles match he played, except one against Maryvale which he lost by the close score of 8-6.

Student Government

Student Government class is the executive branch of Alhambra's Student Government. Its main purposes are to take charge of all Student Government activities and to strive to make Alhambra a better school for both students and faculty. Within the framework of this goal their activities range widely from promoting our American Field Service exchange program to supervising the construction of Homecoming floats.

During this school year Student Government activities consisted of decorating the campus at Christmas and providing canned goods to make the season happier and healthier for their adopted family. Also engaged in community projects, Student Government contributed to the United Fund Drive and collected paperback books in the Books for Viet Nam campaign. During the month of February, they held a 7 a.m. Pancake Breakfast. Student Government erected the booths at the carnival and was in charge of all concessions.

Over 200 Lions wished Anita Pastene "Happy Birthday". The sponsoring of the Foreign Exchange Student is one of Student Governments very important projects.

Popcorn! Cokes! Candy! These were the cries of the 65-66 Activities Committee who were in charge of the concessions at sports events. Under the leadership of Kathy Olsker the Activities Committee headed the Books for Viet Nam Drive and the Booty Bop during United Fund Week.

Public Relations

School spirit is something which keep students alive and enthused about each activity that takes place. As chairman of the Public Relations Committee, Colene Revans, keeps our campus well informed by publicizing all Student Government events, and raising school spirit with signs and pep cards.

This hard working committee also planned the Pancake Breakfast that was held in February.

Kneeling: Alan Jones, Bob Salviano. Standing: Bryan Revans, Mercy Delgado, Fred Camp, Rick Saathoff, Colene Revans, Joe Lugo, Mike Elsensohn.

Kneeling: Steve Sillyman. Sitting: Lisa Ong, Madeline Mehalechko, Marilyn Rhoads, Maria Ghigo, Celeste Cea. Standing: Rosalee Lehman, Bill Zorn, Bob Moore.

Assembly

Under the leadership of Bob Moore, the Assembly committee manages all student assemblies, not only scheduling, but also co-ordinating the time down to the last vital second. Thanks to this committee, students have been privileged to attend over 25 exciting as well as informative and entertaining assemblies this year.

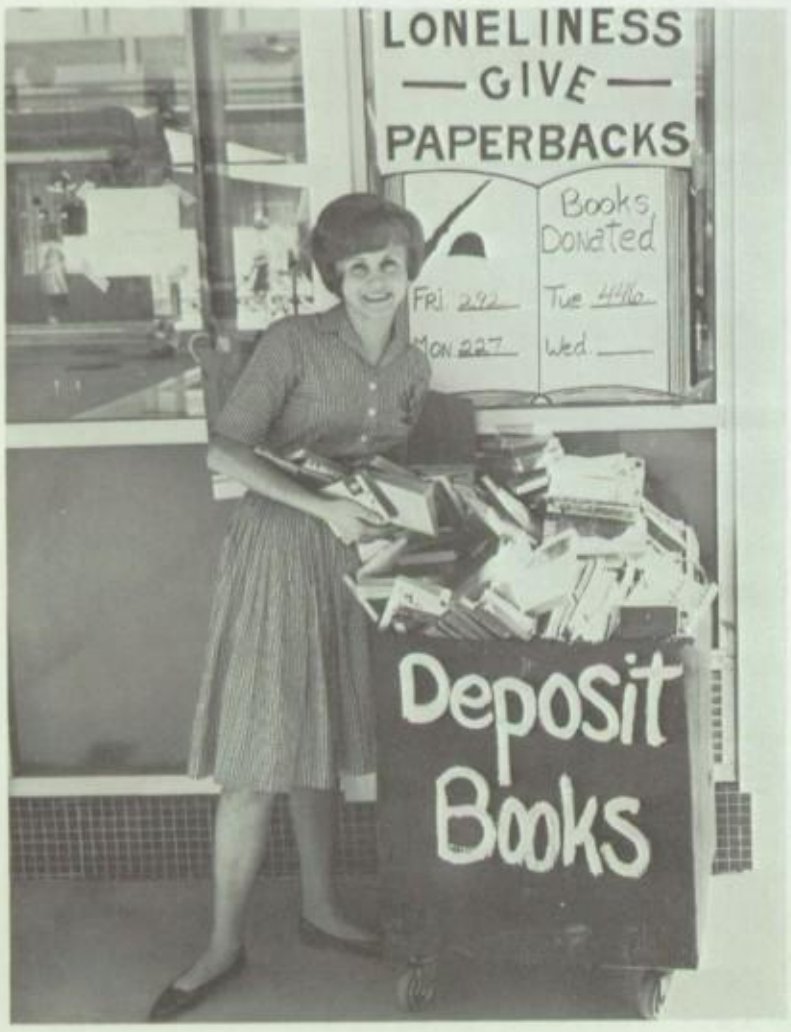
One of Student Government's most ambitious social activities was Homecoming. The social committee supervised the construction of two floats using over 30,000 napkins.

Alhambra's Campus Cutie, Sophomore Becky Neal, reigned over the United Fund Drive.

As a grand finale to the Basketball and Wrestling seasons, the Public Relations Committee organized the Pancake Breakfast.

Bill & Pete Zorn entertained 183 hungry students at the 7 a.m. Pancake Breakfast.

Bryan Revans and Jim Hess were "adorable" at the Booty Bop, the proceeds of which were donated to the United Fund.



One of Student Government's most successful projects of the year, was the Books for Vietnam drive. Activities Chairman, Kathy Olsker beams approval over the volume of books brought by patriotic lions.

Bob Moore reports on the progress of his Assembly Committee.

One of the council's most active members, Brent Cremer, listens critically.

Lynn Larson, one of the Senior representatives, rises to a point of order.

Although not much higher than the lecturn, Student Body Vice President Barbara Tadano, presiding over Student Council with a combination of assurance and ability, has had a most successful year.

Student Council

Student Council is the legislative body of Alhambra's Student Government and is presided over by the Student Body Vice-President. Ninety-four representatives from homeroom classes meet bi-monthly to vote on school projects and activities.

In August, Colene Revans, Jim O'Grady, and Barbara Tadano went to A.S.U. for the A.A.S.C. Workshop. Doug Layton, Ken McIntyre, Norm Perry, Anita Pastene, Greg Christ, Jim O'Grady, Paula Band, Cherry Johnson, and Bob Rodriques attended the A.A.S.C. Convention at Maryvale High School.

Alhambra's Student Council is a member of the National Association of Student Councils and the Arizona Association of Student Councils.

Giving it the old college try, Bob Rodriques attempts to convince Student Council representatives that Batman is the perfect theme for Rodeo Day.

"Hey, let's go!" This shout is often heard on campus, at football games, basketball games, pep assemblies, the Rodeo Parade, or any of the 40 performances the band gives yearly. Under the direction of Mr. Lebs, this group boosts school spirit considerably with their well-liked music. Membership qualifications for band members are rigid. Besides having above average grades, musicians must audition and be chosen for this honor.

Alhambra's 56 member orchestra, under the direction of Pat Lebs, has given three major performances this year including a Winter and a Spring concert. In addition, they gave an evening performance at Christmas and played on Activity Night. Orchestra members belong to the most complete instrumental group at Alhambra and are encouraged to broaden their knowledge of music. During class, they study various kinds of orchestral literature, including symphonic, music comedy, and novelty.

Some orchestra members have to master instruments almost bigger than they are.

Rehearsing for the Music Concert was good experience for the Orchestra's participation in the District Musical Festival held in April.

The Choralettes sing, "It Doesn't Seem Like Christmas", a song composed especially for them by their director, talented Kent Newbury.

Choralettes

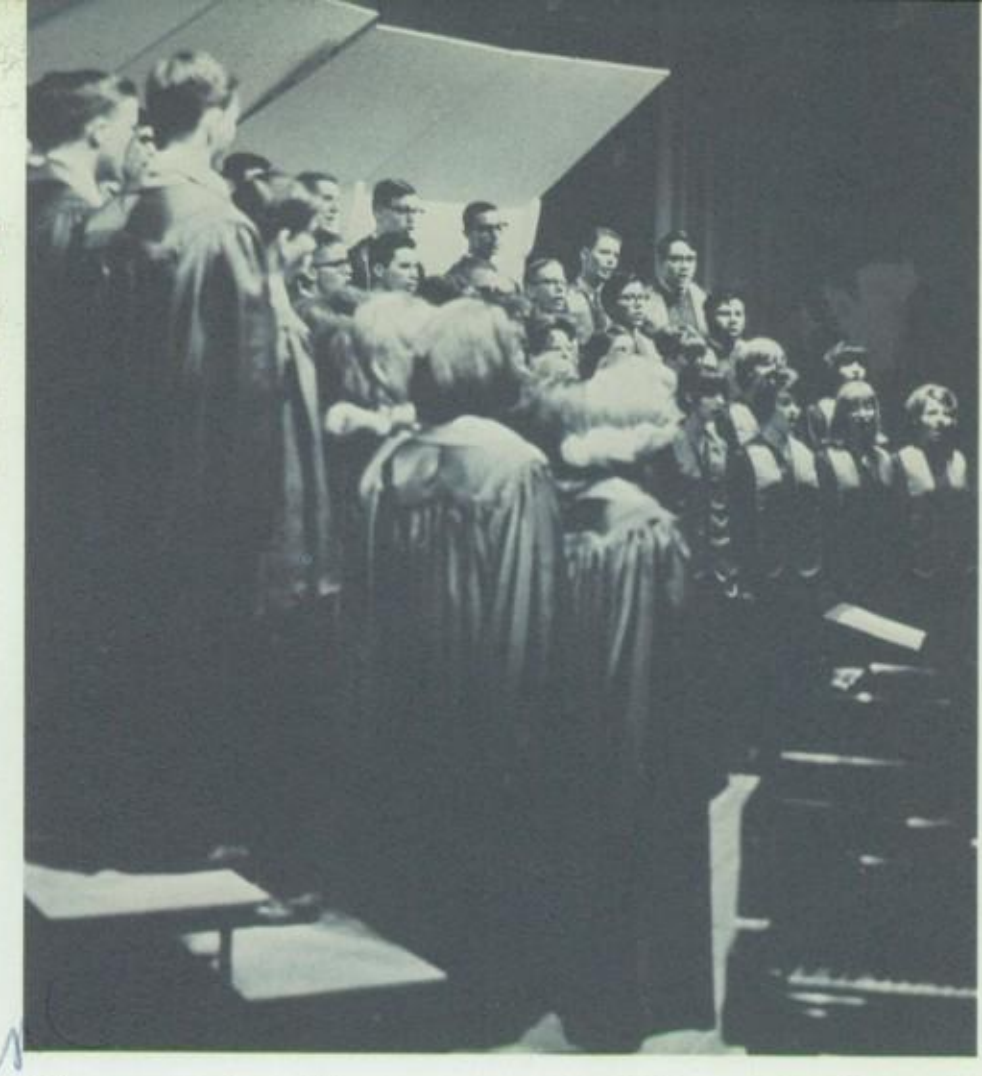
The sixty-one girls in Choralettes and their director, Mr. Kent Newbury have had a busy year with over fifteen performances at school and all over the city. They were certainly busiest during the Christmas season when they not only participated in Alhambra's Christmas assembly and evening concert but also visited two local hospitals and two Phoenix nursing homes. They were part of the Chris-Town Mall entertainment and were invited to sing in a Festival of Choruses which was broadcasted over Radio KOY. Later in the year they participated in the Maryvale Festival and were highly rated in the District Choral Festival. To raise money for their many activities, these enthusiastic girls held two successful car washes and a candy apple sale.

At the Christmas assembly, the Choralettes sing Mr. Newbury's arrangement of "Jacob's Ladder."

With director, Kent Newbury, are the Choralettes' officers. In front: Sandee Burke, President and Thea Puzz, Treasurer. Standing: Patty Johannsen, Secretary and Aileen Gillespie, Vice President.

Chorale

Alhambra is proud of the beautiful music produced by Chorale. Under the direction of Mr. Al Clifton, this mixed chorus has performed many enjoyable programs. To be eligible for this group students must audition before being accepted. The musical comedy "Skyhigh" was the Chorale's production, and all members performed in it. Three Festivals were also held during the months of April and May.



The story of the nativity was sung at the Christmas Assembly as the Mixed Chorus performed "Song of Christmas."

Belles

Spreading joy wherever they go, the Belles of Alhambra are a very select and active group. Chosen from the Choralettes on the basis of vocal variety, the Belles have performed in rest homes, at banquets, concerts, the State fair, and two musical festivals. One of the groups favorite numbers, "Jacobs Ladder" was arranged especially for them by their director, Kent Newberry. Accompanied by Mrs. Jean Clark and at times by a rhythm section consisting of Glen Herring on drums and Jo Lo Biondo on the bass, the Belles are quickly making a name for themselves on the Alhambra campus.

Stage Band

Whatever your type of music is, you can be sure Alhambra's Stage Band can play it. As a service group, the Stage Band performed at Fanfare I and II, Skyhigh, and other group parties. Membership is opened to members of Advanced Band, only. Advisor, Mr. Lebs, then selects those who best meet the high standards of this band.

Sleepy 7 a.m. and diligent after-school practices paid off for these vivacious girls when they placed first in Arizona's summer camp directed by the National Cheerleaders' Association. Enthusiasm for all sports and school activities helped make Alhambra's cheerleaders the best in the state. It is easy to see why some boys have a hard time watching the game!

Half-time must have been made for Pom Pon girls — everything stops when they perform. With twirling red and green capes, the Matadoras marched with the band and performed at all football games. Majorettes Adding spirit and excitement to the AHS Band are the twirling Majorettes. These girls perform at football games, in the Rodeo Parade, and at the Arizona State Fair. Requirements for the honor of Majorette are rigid. Each girl must be a skilled baton twirler with a background in some musical instrument.

J.V. Pom Pons

Patti Chapman, Peggy Ranney, Darlene Ward, Marty Haley, Sandi Tabor, Barbara Buzan.

The few performances given by the J. V. Poms this year were outstanding ones. Their lively spirit at the J.V. games were a welcomed attraction.

J.V. Cheerleaders

Junior varsity football and basketball teams were boosted to winning seasons by the support of the J.V. cheers. These peppy gals never failed to rally the spirit of the crowds.

Kneeling: Jill Creed, Karen Lauchner, Junko Kawamura. Standing: Bonnie Tolkin, Julie Naegle, Judy Marker.

Ron Brott seems to be questioning the honesty of Patty Reznick in this tense scene.

Mouse Trap

The first play of the year, Agatha Christie's "Mousetrap", was presented on Alhambra's stage under the direction of C. Michael Traw and Trudy Jarrell. Working with sets and costumes designed and made by the Drama classes, the eight member cast rehearsed the two act play for eight weeks. Extensive publicity for this school play included radio shorts and a cast appearance on Channel 3's "Showtime".

Never a dull moment — Cherry Johnson attempts escape from the clutches of Dave McClay.

The cast members are interrogated together as well as separately, as the audience wonders who committed the murder.

Bill Zorn hardly looks like a mad murderer as he innocently denies the accusations of his intended victim.

Shortly before she is murdered, Celeste Cea screams in terror!

This beautiful and professionally perfected set is the scene of all the action in "Mousetrap."

Heiress

One of the most outstanding and successful plays presented by the Alhambra Thespians this year was "The Heiress." Because this play was set in the 1850's, acquiring costumes and furniture from this period presented a problem. The Drama Department borrowed $2,000 worth of Victorian furniture for "The Heiress." Costumes for the male parts were sent from New York, and the beautiful period dresses were made by the students and parents. Mr. Michael Traw believed this play to be the most challenging production of the year. "The Heiress" was Alhambra's first drama, and was enjoyed and well-received by all.

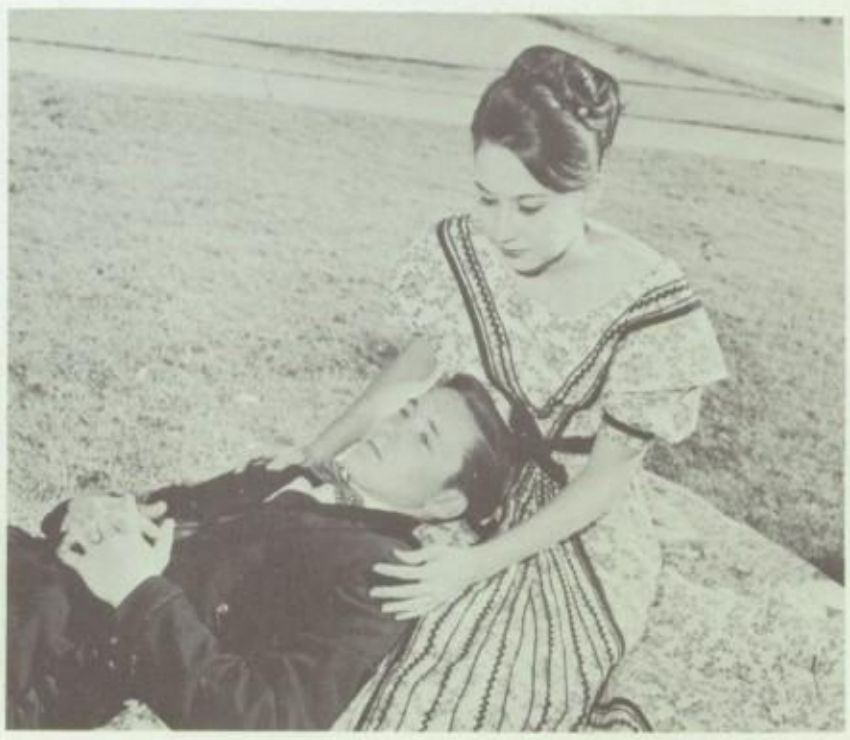
As they stand looking down on Washington Square, all's well in love for Cathy Boxberger and Danny Vucich.

As the aunt who cares deeply for her unhappy niece, Trudy Jarrell suffers most of the girl's trials.

Representing marital bliss in the play are Madeline Mehalechko and Mike Tweedy.

Rosalie Lehman as the cheerful, bustling maid had few lines but plenty of entrances and exits as she appears in practically every scene.

Typical 18th century parlor singing is enjoyed by Judy Ives and Trudy Jarrell as Danny Vucich accompanies.



This scene belies the unhappiness around which the story of the play is built.

Scimitar

Alhambra's newspaper, The Scimitar, is published every two weeks during the school year. Printed in Phoenix by offset methods, the news of Alhambra is gathered, written, edited by members of the staff. Under the leadership of co-editors Jeannette Sogan and John Brayer, the other 12 staff members try to cover as many events in the interest of the student body as possible, this year publishing special issues for Thanksgiving, Christmas, April Fools, and Rodeo.

Fortress

Colene Revans, Editor

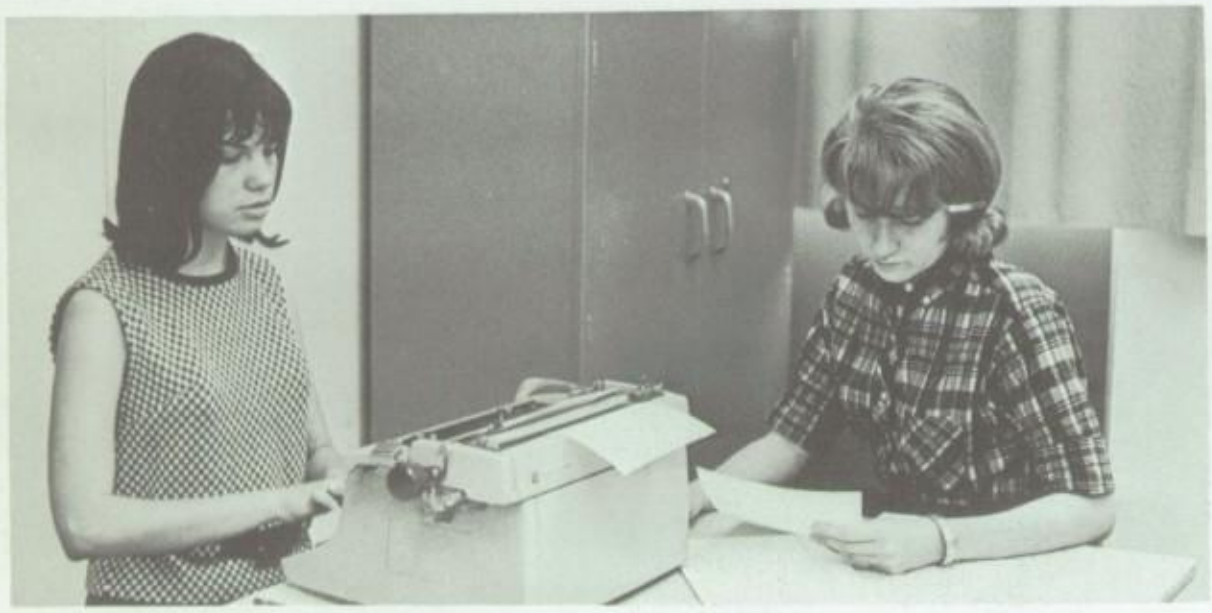
Miss Beverlee Johnson, Advisor

With an advisor who didn't know what a Pom Pon girl was and an editor with no yearbook experience, it might have been a discouraging year. But now, 6,100 pictures later, it seems like eons ago. Even though the Fortress staff was small and for the most part inexperienced, they were enthusiastic, and most importantly, worked well together. Everyone learned a lot, forgot a lot, yet somehow the 1966 Fortress was completed.

Undaunted by working conditions, staff members often typed to the tune of "Jacob's Ladder" as the chorus rehearsed. Undaunted by bad weather, those club pictures finally were taken and proved worth the worrying. Often discouraged by what seemed to be ridiculous jobs for yearbook staffers, class picture packages were alphabetized, the index was completed, memos were written, groups were posed, copy was filed, layouts were re-copied, letters were cut out, flyers were stuffed in lockers, pictures were spotted, negatives filed, and every once in a while the Fortress staff headed for the auditorium for relaxation and entertainment, compliments of the drama department.

A serious group though they were, an occasional joke was allowed and once or twice the harrassed Fortress staff laughed. At least two people fought nervous breakdowns and the rest sympathized. Coming in contact with practically everyone on campus during the year, the staff made a lot of friends — and a few enemies — but have decided that the citizens of Alhambra are a pretty fair lot. It is a certainty that experience has taught us never again to view magazines, newspapers, any piece of journalism, lightly — we know the myriad of details that make up the whole, and we know what is good and what is not.

Jeanne Bowles goes over her schedule for club pi with staffer, Fred Camp.



Barbara Hunt, hired as a typist, only to become jack-of-all-trades, checks copy with Sue Gustafson.

With three years of yearbook experience, Nancy Hammons was an invaluable member of the staff. Working primarily on layouts, she edited the Senior section and the Index.

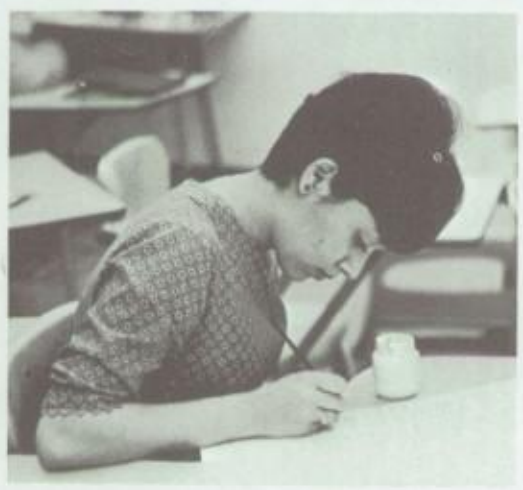
In addition to layout work, Fortress artist Steve Gardner was largely responsible for the cover and division pages.

Looking over photo proofs to complete layouts are Shelly Calhoun and Alice Cox.

Not only did he have to take and develop 2,069 pictures, photographer Ricci Brown had to spot photos to meet the exacting requirements of the Fortress staff.

Drawing and redrawing; writing and re-writing — somehow it all gets finished. Miss Johnson goes over faculty layouts with Steve Gardner.

Even the busiest of staffs take an occasional break. A musical editor and a piano in the room provided interludes that were frequently hilarious.



Artist Mercy Delgado was responsible for publicity posters as well as innumerable decisions on color, style, photos and layouts. Here her practiced eyes spot errors in the Senior Index.

Included in the thousands of tasks involved in completing a yearbook is the index which Bob Bolton helps Diane Vanderschoor with.

Writing the majority of copy for the Fortress were Barbara Baker and Debbie Phillips who never really believed the end would come.

Among the busiest staff members was photographer John Wainwright who spent countless hours working for the Fortress.

Art Show

Alhambra students voted "The Legacy of Father Kino" by Don Ruffin most popular entry.

Modern art can be puzzling!

Contrary to popular belief, high school students do appreciate good art — A.H.S. proved this point.

Mrs. Macon's art students prepared the easels for the 52 paintings.

Alhambra's administration played a large part in the success of the Art Show.

A prefect opportunity for humanities teacher, Miss Phillips, to introduce her students to good art.

Practically every Alhambra student visited the 1st Art Show.

October, 1965 saw the culmination of a project that had been conceived and worked on by the Girls' League for over a year. It was their wish to begin a permanent art collection for Alhambra. With the encouragement of Mr. Burton, the guidance and efforts of Mrs. Lipton and the support of the entire student body, the first Art Show was a complete success. Over 5,000 people visited the six day showing exhibited by 25 Arizona artists. The students of Alhambra purchased four paintings for the school collection.

Starlight Ball

The beautiful decorations were created under the direction of Mrs. Macon.

oration Chairman, Mercy Delgado, rected the transformation of the cafeteria.

Art student, Larry Lentz fashioned the ornate chandeliers.

The music of the Afterglows provided the proper background for a beautiful evening.

Over 300 couples attended the Christmas dance.

Under gold chandeliers, girls with radiant smiles and boys in those uncomfortable tuxedos danced to the enjoyable music of the Afterglows. The Girls' League "Starlight Ball" was a night from the land of My Fair Lady and everything was "loverly" in tones of gold with mirrors for special effects.

"Where has he been hiding? What has kept our lives from coinciding?" Lynda Foster sings as her heart flutters over "A Man like that."

Bruce Lahti and Gaylen Oliphant interview the man-on-the street, Pat Stamets, who declares that anyone who doesn't like skyscrapers must be afraid of heaven which obviously means he's an athiest!

Sky High

Not only was "Sky High" Alhambra's first musical, the story was written by faculty member, Mel Weiser. Working under student director Bill Zorn, the 70 member cast staged an exciting and thoroughly delightful show. The chorus, consisting of Al Clifton's Chorale and the Stage Band, conducted by Pat Lebs, were the backbone of this successful production which resulted in the discovery of new stars.

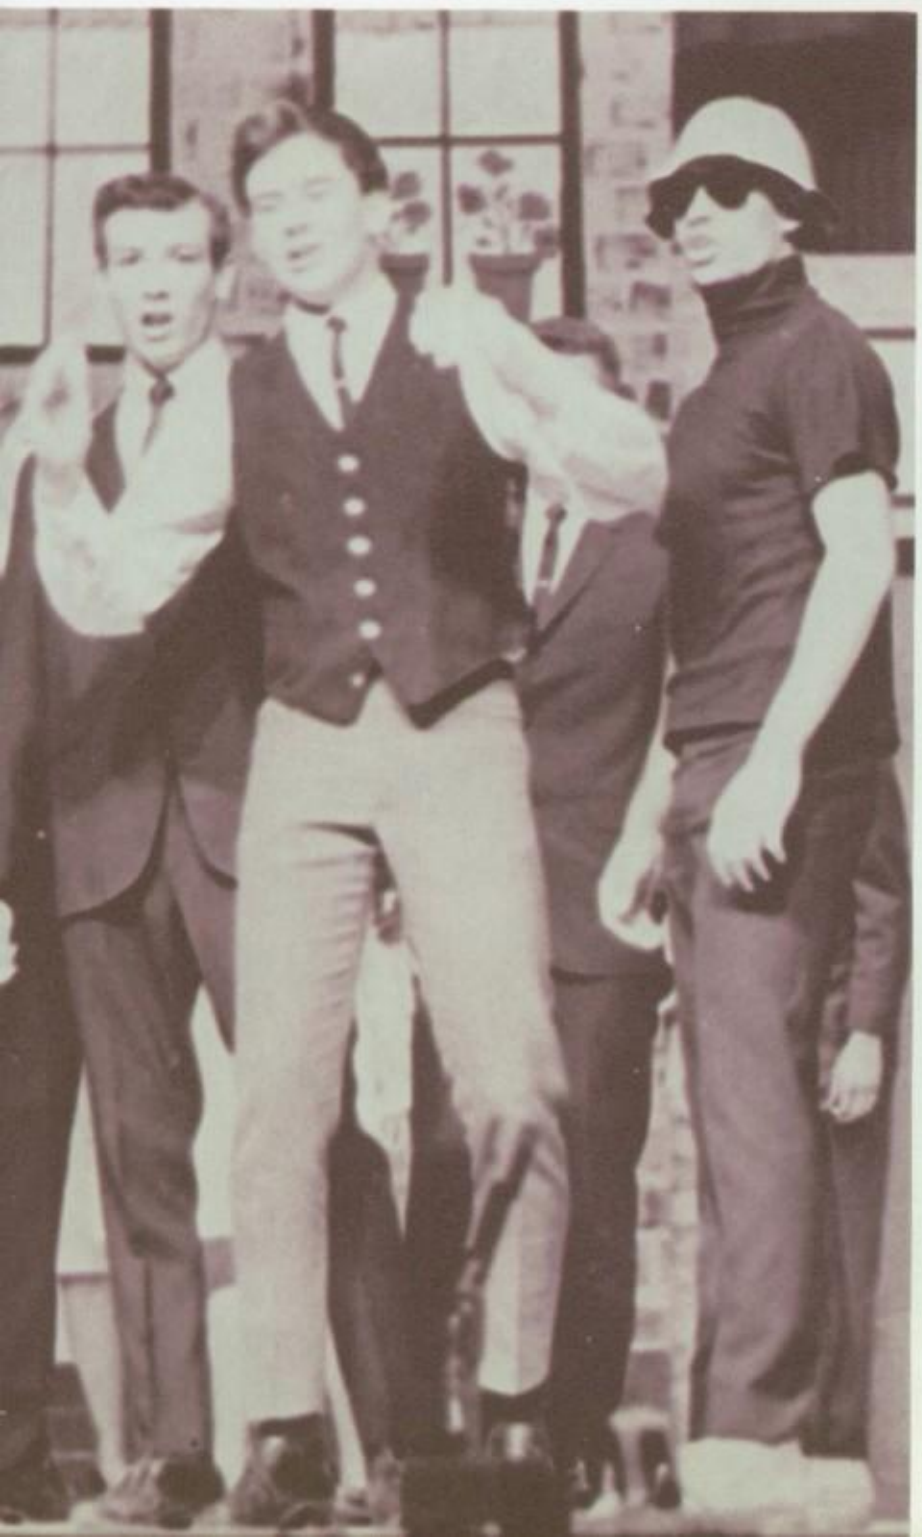
"I'm the great Roberta Moses!" — and her yes-men, Jerry Macy and Bruce Lahti, assure Celeste Cea, that she is — but of course.

Read all about it! In the opening number the chorus excitedly informs the audience, "They're going to build a building 140 stories high. It'll go beyond the reach of human eye!"

With so many bridges to build and marks to make in parks, and places to go and people to see, it's no wonder Miss Cea sighs, "I do not have a moment to waste."



Proving that they really are "A marvelous pair", Kathy Olsker and John Shillington sing, "Winters-Summers."

According to Gaylan Oliphant, David Crissman, and Howie Williams, New Yorkers are fortunate . . . "Neighbors all around us. Neighbors up above. All of them surround us with gentle New York love."

American Field Service

Alhambra students were proud of Anita when she acted as hostess for the A.F.S. assembly.

From Vina Del Mar, Chile and one of 3,000 foreign exchange students studying in the U.S. under the A.F.S. program, Anita Pastene has made herself completely at home on our campus. After arriving in Miami, Anita began her journey across the U.S. to Phoenix where she was met by her new "parents", Mr. and Mrs. Comstock. She was surprised the following day by the Student Government class who presented her with roses as a way of welcoming her to Phoenix and to Alhambra High School.

Her year at Alhambra has been an interesting and educational experience and Anita has been particularly impressed with the way Alhambra is run. Her school in Chile has no student government nor clubs and activities all of which Anita has actively participated in at Alhambra.

Even though she is not looking forward to leaving Alhambra, Anita will have a great trip home with the last stop Washington, D.C. and a personal greeting from President Johnson.

Anita has been active in many phases of school life. She has particularly enjoyed the various activities including her "marriage" to Steve Band on Rodeo Day.

Not only well known, but extremely well-liked, Anita was surprised by over 250 students at a birthday party. Here, she thanks the Student Government class who was responsible for planning the party.

Made up to look like Boris Karloff, Bill Zorn with his plastic surgeon, Dr. Einstein frightens his aunt, Martha Brewster.

Arsenic and Old Lace

"Arsenic and Old Lace" is a comedy about two eccentric old ladies played by two Alhambra pros, Judy Ives and Trudy Jarrel, who poison twelve men in a very odd manner. The costumes for "Arsenic and Old Lace" were borrowed, made, and re-done from costumes used previously. This play was said to be easy to perform and the only problems the Thespians had were dragging the corpses from place to place, and the make-up which had to be put on to effect old age. Also in starring parts were Bill Zorn, Warren Tessler, Mark Wiesel, Michele Croak, Gordy Groth, Steve Band, Bob Moore, Bill Price, Brenn Weiser, Larry Fearneyhaugh, Duane Vanderschoor, and Brian Hurley. "Arsenic & Old Lace" was the first play the Thespians ran 3 night performances for, and was presented mainly for the amusement of the students.

Starring as the eccentric, but lovable Brewster sisters are Judy Ives and Trudy Jarrel.

Playing an odd character who thinks he's Teddy Roosevelt, Larry Fearneyhough, interrupts the love scene between Michele Croak and Mark Weisel.

Duane Vanderschoor and Gordy Groth are tempted by Trudy Jarrel to taste her deadly wine.

With the murder score an even 12-12, Jonathan secures his 13th victim, only to be outwitted in the end and lose to the sisters 13-12.

What a life! Must be nice to stand around on corners, watching all the girls go by!

Anyone not wearing western clothes on Rodeo Day can look forward to spending the lunch hour in jail.

As Annie Oakley, Nikki Light sings, "You Can't Get a Man with a Gun."

"Add to these a grin from ear to ear and all the proper gear have I — to tell the whole darn world, if you don't happen to like it, deal me out . . ."

In the shadows of the stage, Pam Meeker sings "In the Shadow Of Her Smile."

One of the rousing musical numbers "Big D" was performed by the entire cast.

Rodeo

The cast in the finale: "Yesterday the world was still a mystery. Today it has a new and different look."

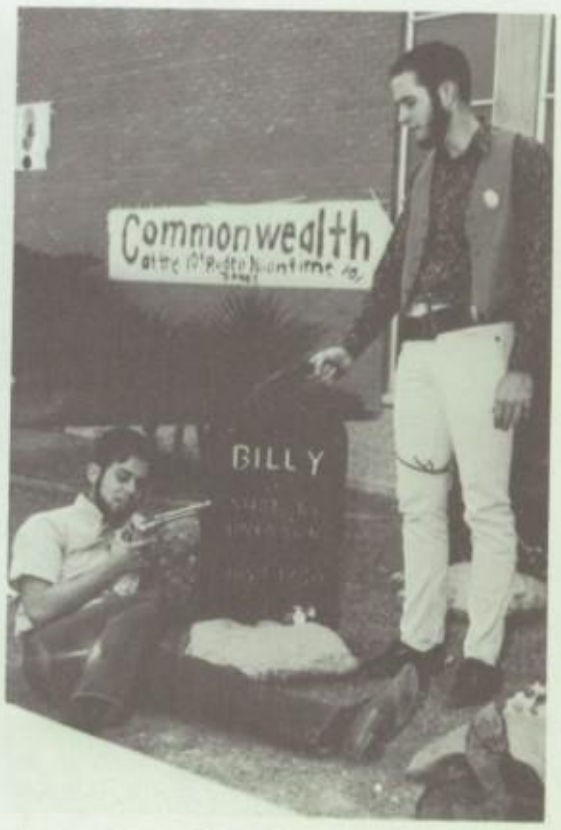
Alhambra musicians entertain in the Haywagon Saloon during the noon hours.

Entertaining at the evening stomp, were the Jaguars, a group from North High.

The entire cast of the Rodeo Assembly makes quite a colorful picture.

Bill Price and Rhonda Stoney are from "Big D — My, oh yes! You can tell by the way I drawl and the way I dress."

"His is The Only Music That Makes Me Dance," sang popular Paula Band.



"Bang, Bang! You shot me down!" Dennis Ridenhour and Paul Nunnelly are just kidding, of course.

THE NEVER-ENDING JOB OF THE FACULTY

Board of Education

The Board of Education is composed of five citizens who give their time and energies voluntarily to function as the policy-making, legal authority responsible for the operation of the high school system. The usual reward for the members' unpaid labors is much criticism and small thanks. From our direction, however, they will hear only gratitude for the splendid opportunity offered us to prepare for adult responsibilities and opportunities.

Dr. Howard C. Seymour, Superintendent of the Phoenix Union High School System and nationally known educator, received his Ed.M. and Ed.D at Harvard Graduate School of Education. Dr. Seymour is a member of the Arizona Academy, Phi Delta Kappa, an honorary teachers' fraternity, and many other educational groups. He is an active participant in many civic groups and holds the Silver Beaver Award for service to Scouting.

Alhambra High School Administration

As we come of age, Alhambra High believes two goals to be of immediate importance: The improvement of instructional materials and the encouragement of our students to assume ever greater responsibility for their own academic achievement, campus behavior and activity planning. Under the leadership and wise direction of Mr. Charles M. Burton, our school is realizing these goals. Mr. Burton also sets an example for school spirit in his encouragement and active support of all school activities.

A graduate of William Jewell College in Liberty, Missouri where he was affiliated with Kappa Sigma social fraternity, Mr. Burton received his M.A. degree from the University of Missouri in Columbia, Missouri. At the University of Missouri he was a member of Gamma Alpha, Honorary Graduate Scientific Fraternity. Mr. Burton has done additional graduate work at Columbia, Stanford and Arizona State Universities. A member of numerous professional organizations, he is also active in Phoenix Kiwanis Club.

MR. CHARLES M. BURTON, Principal

George W. Miller, Associate Principal, is a graduate of the University of Arizona and received his M.A. and Ed.S. degrees from Arizona State University. Mr. Miller is a member of Camelback Kiwanis, National Education Association, Phi Delta Kappa and Phi Gamma Delta.

Juanita Lipton, Administrative Assistant for Girls, received her B.A. degree from Howard College and her M.A. from Columbia University. Mrs. Lipton has done graduate work at the University of North Carolina and Arizona State University. She is a member of Alpha Delta Kappa International.

John K. Hughes, Administrative Assistant for Boys, is a graduate of Arizona State University where he received his B.A. and M.A. degrees. He is a member of the National Education Association, Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity and Careers for Youth.

Words Are Things, and A Small Drop of Ink

The English program at Alhambra is varied and comprehensive; students are given opportunity to improve their reading, writing, and speaking skills as well as amass a good literary background. Student papers run the gamut from "Profiles of My Youth" to "Twentieth Century Chinese Poetry", while literature courses include writers from Chaucer to John Knowles. Speech and grammar studies teach students to speak and write correctly; drama classes offer theatrical training as well as an introduction to the history of the theatre. In journalism classes students can acquire a new and challenging concept of writing.

Alhambra's English Department is continually striving to improve teaching methods. In an experimental freshman class, students have studied structural grammar through observation and discovery instead of the time-worn method of memorizing rules. In order to account for individual differences, the English classes are ability grouped.

People, places, theories, things, and the welfare of people is the main concern of the Social Studies Department.

Classes in the Social Studies Department range from World History and World Geography to Humanities, American Problems, International Relations, Economics, American History, and Government. Human Relations is the study of ancient culture and fine arts. American Problems is the study of current social economic problems. International Relations is the study of foreign policies. Economics is the study of how people attain unlimited wants with limited resources.

With such a wide variety of courses as is offered by the Social Studies Department it is no wonder there are so many students enrolled in a Social Studies class.

Men Love to Wonder and That Is the Seed of Our Science

Science is a way of everyday life. It is not something new, different, or mysterious. Science is an organized logical approach to understanding natural and physical phenomena. The laboratory is the center of science teaching. Ideas are investigated, laboratory work performed; allowing us to think and then draw conclusions. A scientific education gives one the ability to think, reason, and then make a judgment. These are three qualities that will be important in the life of every man.

The effectiveness of the AHS Science Department is proven by the honors awarded to science students. Seven students were selected as honor participants to read their science papers at the Annual Meeting of the Arizona Academy of Science.

"Escuchen Y repitan." "Ecoutez et repetez." "Was habben wir fer essen?" And so it goes for the first six weeks of Spanish. And French. And German. Our Foreign Language Department uses the audio-lingual approach which is the latest way to teach a foreign language. Students have an opportunity to hear the language spoken by natives and can thus more easily acquire good pronunciation. With tapes, records, films and visual aids students are thoroughly exposed to their second languages.

Alhambra's Foreign Language Department offers a four year program. Many students finish only two years which gives them the basic skills and concepts of the language. In the third and fourth years students study customs, culture, literature, composition and have the added advantage of more individual work. After taking a foreign language four years, a student is able to talk with a native on a variety of subjects. Considering how many millions of Americans travel abroad each year, this fluency will prove to be an invaluable skill.

Great Art Is an Instant Arrested in Eternity

What's a pep assembly without a band? What's a play without scenery? How effective is publicity without posters? What's a coral concert without singers? But who is responsible for all the behind-the-scenes work? Alhambra's Music and Art Department is the backbone of our extra-curricular activities. Besides their own activities – concerts, musical festival, art shows, assemblies, and clubs, these people help the Drama Department, Athletic Department, Girls' League and any other group who needs musical or artistical support.

In addition to group work, the Music and Art Department teach the history and background of each respective subject and then continue with the advancement and training of the voice, the instrument or the artist.

Delicious aromas that fill the air; a variety of original designs in clothing; the laughter of playing children; a class; a diet chart; efficiency — this is Home Economics.

Each year boys and girls are offered courses in several different areas. Human Relations teaches the value of the relationship between human beings. Child Guidance instructs students in the caring of children. Foods and Nutrition supplies the knowledge needed to cook and the foods needed to stay healthy. Clothing and Textiles gives the know-how to make a variety of clothing. All these Home Economics classes prepare girls and boys to live a better life by giving them the background needed for a happier future.

Industrial Arts, one of the practical arts, is an active part of general education. Since it is not vocational it does not teach a trade or a profession, but does offer excellent stepping stones to those who desire a vocation, avocation, or terminal education experience. Courses can be used for technical education, engineering, and a host of other college fulfillments. Five areas are offered at Alhambra, namely Drafting, Electronics, Automotives, Metalworking and Woodworking.

The Business Education Department offers occupational training for young people through Office Education and Distributive Education. These students are in cooperative work experience programs during their senior year, attending classes in the morning and working in offices and retailing stores in the afternoon. For this work experience the students receive pay and school credit.

Students in office education further their vocational aims through FBLA, Future Business Leaders of America, which promotes a closer relationship with the business leaders of the community and the school. Those students in the retailing field are members of DECA, Distributive Education Club of America, an active group which maintains a business-like liaison with the retailing world. Both clubs work cooperatively with businessmen to promote office and retailing careers among their members.

In addition, business education offers typewriting as a tool for everyone's personal use and courses in general business, bookkeeping, business law, marketing, and management for general background.

A walk through the Math Department of Alhambra will set a maze of numbers and formulas in anyone's mind. The mathematics curriculum has been devised to meet the needs of all students. With this in mind, the curriculum is constantly being revised. Courses range from elementary general mathematics to advanced courses in logic, theory of sets, probability, limits, and an introduction to calculus.

The task of teaching math in an interesting manner is a challenge to the faculty in this department. They succeed by making use of projects, films, and class discussions. Considering how important mathematics is to our everyday lives, the students of Alhambra are fortunate in being able to learn under such able instruction.

A good volleyball player must be fast, accurate, and team-spirited.

Seven hundred and fifty-three girls are living proof that Alhambra's P.E. classes are not all muscles and perspiration. Along with the team sports, volleyball, basketball and baseball the girls of Alhambra are offered such activities as: gymnastics, body mechanics, modern dance, golf, archery, badminton and tennis. For the girl with a physical handicap, the P.E. Department offers a special adapted class.

Every sport has rules and other specifics which must be known before the activity can be played properly. Written exams are given to test the girls' knowledge of each sport. Ask most any girl who is active in P.E. what she is doing after school and she will probably tell you that she has to stay for intramurals. She wants to make sure her team wins the First Place gold pin.

The Alhambra P.E. Department strives to achieve the "whole" girl by developing leadership, respect, understanding, self-expression and self confidence.

"One, two, three — One; One, two, three — Two!" As each boys' P.E. class starts, the chant of two hundred boys counting out their calisthenics can be heard. In addition to physical fitness the P.E. Department stresses a sound mind and good sportsmanship. Sports such as handball and tennis are taught for their carry-over value. To most boys these sports are more beneficial in future life than team sports.

Grades are made up of more than how well a boy can play a sport. Sixty percent of the grade is participation, twenty percent is skill tests, and another twenty percent is written tests. Intra-murals are an important phase of Boys' P.E. Practically all class sports are included in the intramural program. A decathalon event is also part of the program and anyone who wishes may enter this.

It is true that not every boy can be a football hero or a track star. However, the Alhambra P.E. Department provides a chance for every boy, no matter how athletically inclined, to find his place in sports.

Drivers' Education, a requirement for graduation, teaches highway safety and the working of cars. With the help of films and other aids the Drivers' Ed. student learns the fundamentals of driving.

The films, records, tapes, and slides at Alhambra are distributed by the Audio-Visual Department. These aids have proven themselves very useful in all phases of education.

A Reading Improvement class is offered for those students who have problems reading and comprehension. A special stress is put on vocabulary building, phonics, increase in speed and understanding.

A School Community Worker is employed at Alhambra. His job consists of helping students who are truent from school. He also confers with parents and works closely with the community as a whole.

"I don't like my second hour teacher". "How can I go to college if I don't have any money?". "I need three more credits to graduate!" Such are the tales of woe brought to the counselor.

The Counseling Department is determined to help students help themselves. Whether the problem is educational, vocational, or personal, there is always a competent counselor willing to advise. Information on scholarships, college, and jobs is available. With eight highly skilled counselors such as Alhambra has, it is evident that many problems should last no longer than it takes to walk to the Counseling Office.

INDEX

The excellence of the lion is shown in many ways.
Through intelligence, pride, courage, and agility,
the lion proves to be victorious in the end.
Just as the lion is a proud symbol of power, nobility, and spirit so is a Loyal Lion of Alhambra.

Best Wishes to a real cute kid. It's been a blast" in Orch. Stay sweet and a good luck in the future

We have recorded in words and pictures 1966 as seen through the eyes of the Lions on the FORTRESS staff. To us, the end of the year means more than the Junior-Senior Prom, final report cards, graduation, and the beginning of an exciting summer. To us, it is the completion and production of all our hard work.

This book would not have been possible without the assistance of:

Miss Beverlee Johnson, whose dedication, patience and understanding has helped everyone on the staff work well together and assemble the 1966 FORTRESS.
Mr. Gerald Bridgman, who supervised all the art work in this book. His willingness to answer our innumerable questions and offer professional advice was constant.
Miss Candy Casler, who worked as a contributing photographer.
Mrs. Evelyn Kidwell, whose patience and assistance was always appreciated.
Mr. Harley King, and the Business Department.
Mr. Michael Traw, and the Drama Department for their moral support and encouragement.
Mrs. Martha Macon, and the Art Department.
Miss Nan Ritter, of Korricks Portrait Studio.
Mr. Dick Kunkle, of State School Pictures.
Southwest Yearbook Company.
S. K. Smith Cover Company.

I personally would like to thank the staff for their hard work, interest and support. Few know the thought, worry and effort that go into a yearbook. I would also like to thank my instructors for their patience and for understanding my frequent absences.

Finally, the staff would like to thank all the teachers, coaches, and students for their cooperation in posing for pictures at what invariably seemed like inconvenient times and places.

1966 has been a year of triumphs, challenges, and learning. Our triumphs in sports were culminated when we were awarded the Superintendent's Sportsmanship Trophy. Our scholastic triumphs were recognized at the annual Honors Assembly. Daily, students' minds were challenged in classrooms as Alhambra's faculty kept pace with the knowledge explosion. We have learned to be more tolerant. We have learned to be better citizens. We have learned to appreciate knowledge. Those who are leaving Alhambra will leave better people. Those who are returning may look forward to another year of enrichment. For in essence, this is the spirit of the Lion — the desire and determination to meet ever-widening horizons.

Marlene,
It has been great fun
having you in chemistry class

Dearest Marlene—
Well, this is it! So long,
Old Chum! Our years of fun (and suffering, even) are coming to an end. Will this tragedy wreck our lives or friendship?! No, actually.
Cause we will always be buddy-buddies and completely, absolutely Beatle-happy.
Anyroad, this is just a very sincere desire that you succeed in everything you want and do.
When and if we see each other again, I certainly hope it will be in the streets of a pub in London!
Love always,
Debbie Maus
